Receive and record radio broadcasts on a PC.

With Internet access and a USB port, the MANHATTAN® USB Internet Radio delivers thousands of radio stations – 20,000 and more – from around the world to a desktop or notebook computer. Unlike some popular media players and Web-based entertainment sources, MANHATTAN USB Internet Radio allows listeners to instantly connect, hear and enjoy favorite sports, talk, music and news broadcasts from almost anywhere without subscriptions, use restrictions or costly upgrades.

Easy to Enjoy

Insert the MANHATTAN USB Internet Radio into a USB port to activate its multi-function, multi-language onscreen control panel with search, sort, audio controls and settings. An auto-play option starts selected broadcasts without delay; otherwise, you can easily locate stations using built-in keyword search, Top 75 genre and region lists or explore comprehensive, updated station genre and region lists. Select favorite stations for quick replay and to influence Top 75 lists, contribute to trends and share listening preferences with other listeners. Easily capture and save content to share and replay with convenient, push-button recording.

Simple to Install

Unlike stand-alone, stationary Internet radio devices, the MANHATTAN USB Internet Radio is compact and lightweight, and easily packs into any notebook computer case for travel. Its Plug and Play capability, Windows compatibility and bus-powered design quickly connect without antennas, batteries, external power supplies, cables or software.

Lifetime Warranty

Strict manufacturing standards ensure the highest quality in all MANHATTAN products. All items carry a full Lifetime Warranty – the strongest quality commitment anyone can make.
