Its front zippered pocket with full, front access helps keep frequently needed items safe but within easy reach. A convenient loop handle helps easily lift and load the lightweight MANHATTAN Shanghai Notebook Computer Backpack into overhead bins and racks. Adjustable padded shoulder straps include accessory loops and D-rings to attach cell phones, media players and more. Two side mesh pockets stow water or beverage bottles and keep other gear separate from the notebook computer compartment and other sensitive cargo.

Sturdy, Reliable Computer and Accessories Protection

Its interior, with padded computer compartment and elastic strap, accommodates most notebook computers with widescreens up to 15.6". The top-load configuration offers quick packing and speedy airport inspections. An adjacent mesh pocket keeps papers, documents and magazines smooth and flat and easy to find.
